PPM Conference

In August, Hannah, Kiandra, Kayla, Sofia, and Sharon traveled to the Gold Coast to attend the PPM National Property Management Conference. Over the weekend, they heard from speakers delivering on all things property management, wellness, team building and rising up to your full potential as a business owner and property management team member.

The two-day event was a fantastic experience filled with networking opportunities, engaging activities, and valuable insights. The sessions provided tips, concepts, and strategies designed to inspire and motivate property management teams to embrace new ideas.

While the conversations were invaluable to the business's growth, they were equally impactful on the staff as individuals.

A special thank you to Kevin at St John for your invaluable support in facilitating this course. If you're seeking an inclusive and culturally appropriate trainer, we wholeheartedly recommend Storm from St John!
