CLOSE THE GAP

March brings National Close the Gap Day - a reminder to celebrate diverse cultures and the need to uphold respect and equity in our communities.

In East Arnhem Land, culture, connection, and community shape the way people live, work, and care for Country. This is witness daily in the deep knowledge of land, the support people offer each other, and the strong sense of belonging that unites all.

Being part of these communities means taking the time to listen, learn, and build genuine relationships, always striving for a more inclusive and equitable future.

On this day, we have an opportunity to come together to share information and to send a clear message to our governments: health equality is a fundamental right for all, especially for First Nations Peoples.

At EARE, we support this commitment through delivery of the Living Strong program, which promotes healthy homes for healthy futures.

We thank these remarkable women for their impactful contributions to our success and the lives they touch.
